DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 10 is considered indefinite because it depends from claim 7 and recites limitations that were presented in claim 7. Claim 7 recites that the crate has corner columns and a corner ledge. Claim 10 also recites that the crate has corner columns and a corner ledge. Does the crate have two sets of "a plurality of corner columns" and corner ledges?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 3-5, 7, 8, 10-16 and 18-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McGrath (U.S. 6,047,844). McGrath teaches a nestable bottle crate (figures 17-23, and line 1 of Abstract) having a floor portion 17, a peripherally extending upper band portion 25 with bottle contacting portions 28, and a lower wall comprising columns 32. The ledge is considered to be the horizontally extending surface between the upper end of the column and the portion 29 (figure 17). Element 28 in figure 17 is considered the first portion of the upper band portion and elements 30 and 31 comprise the second portions. The recesses of the outer wall of the upper band portion are shown at the end walls of the crate.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McGrath (U.S. 6,047,844) in view of Apps et al. (U.S. 5,316,172). McGrath teaches the claimed invention except for the columns having concave inner surfaces. Apps et al. teaches that it is known to provide a bottle crate with columns which have concave inner surfaces (see elements 142 and 144). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the crate of McGrath with the columns having concave inner surfaces, as taught by Apps et al., in order to conform to the cylindrical shape of a typical bottle.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 6, 9, 27 and 28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art is cited for the column structure.

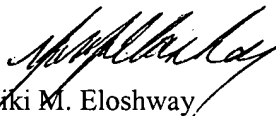

9. THIS ACTION IS NON-FINAL
